A COMPREHENSIVE ESTIMATION AND COST MANAGEMENT WORKSHOP

Join us for an immersive two-day live classroom training session on roofing estimating, expertly led by John Kenney. This course is tailored for professionals eager to master the critical skills of accurate cost estimation and project bidding, which are essential for successful roofing construction projects.

Course Overview: Delve into the art and science of roofing estimating over two comprehensive days. You will learn to perform detailed quantity takeoffs and prepare robust project estimates encompassing direct, indirect, overhead, and profit costs. Our curriculum covers a variety of commercial roofing applications, focusing on both low-slope and steep-slope roofing projects.

What You Will Learn:

- Estimation Techniques: Understand how to develop conceptual, preliminary, and detailed roofing estimates.
- Quantity Takeoffs: Master the skills needed to measure and allocate units of work effectively.
- Data Organization: Learn how to collect and organize estimation data systematically.
- Cost Sources: Identify reliable cost data sources and understand the key components of labor, equipment, and materials.
- Project Management: Determine optimal crew sizes and productivity rates and assess site conditions influencing cost estimates.
- Cost Allocation: Gain expertise in allocating direct and indirect project costs, including contingency and escalation factors.
- Bidding Strategies: Develop strategies for competitive bidding and validating cost estimates.
- Scheduling: Learn to create project schedules based on your cost estimate data.
